Executive Committee Members
The College Savings Foundation.

Dear Audit and Finance Committee Members:

We have audited the financial statements of The College Savings Foundation as of and for the year ended December 31, 2013, and have issued our report thereon dated May 7, 2014. Professional standards require that we advise you of the following matters relating to our audit.

Our Responsibility in Relation to the Financial Statement Audit

As communicated in our engagement letter dated March 12, 2014, our responsibility, as described by professional standards, is to form and express an opinion about whether the financial statements that have been prepared by management with your oversight are presented fairly, in all material respects, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our audit of the financial statements does not relieve you or management of its respective responsibilities.

Our responsibility, as prescribed by professional standards, is to plan and perform our audit to obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit of financial statements includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, as part of our audit, we considered the internal control of The College Savings Foundation solely for the purpose of determining our audit procedures and not to provide any assurance concerning such internal control.

We are also responsible for communicating significant matters related to the audit that are, in our professional judgment, relevant to your responsibilities in overseeing the financial reporting process. However, we are not required to design procedures for the purpose of identifying other matters to communicate to you.

We have provided our comments regarding significant control deficiencies, material weaknesses and other matters noted during our audit in a separate letter to you dated May 7, 2014.

Planned Scope and Timing of the Audit

We conducted our audit consistent with the planned scope and timing we previously communicated to you.

Compliance with All Ethics Requirements Regarding Independence

The engagement team and others in our firm, as appropriate, and our firm have complied with all relevant ethical requirements regarding independence.

Qualitative Aspects of the Entity's Significant Accounting Practices

Significant Accounting Policies

Management has the responsibility to select and use appropriate accounting policies. A summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by The College Savings Foundation is included in Note 2 to the financial statements. There have been no initial selection of accounting policies and no changes in significant accounting policies or their application during 2013. No matters have come to our attention that would require us, under professional standards, to inform you about (1) the methods used to account for significant unusual transactions and (2) the effect of significant accounting policies in controversial or emerging areas for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus.

Significant Accounting Estimates

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's current judgments. Those judgments are normally based on knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ markedly from management's current judgments.

Financial Statement Disclosures

Certain financial statement disclosures involve significant judgment and are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. The most sensitive disclosures affecting The College Savings Foundation's financial statements relate to functional allocation of expenses, related party transactions, and restatement of opening net assets as of January 1, 2013.

Identified or Suspected Fraud

We have not identified or have obtained information that indicates that any fraud occurred.

Significant Difficulties Encountered during the Audit

There were no significant difficulties encountered during the audit.

Uncorrected and Corrected Misstatements

For purposes of this communication, professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that we believe are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. Further, professional standards require us to also communicate the effect of uncorrected misstatements related to prior periods on the relevant classes of transactions, account balances or disclosures, and the financial statements as a whole. In addition, professional standards require us to communicate to you all material, corrected misstatements that were brought to the attention of management as a result of our audit procedures. All misstatements that we identified as a result of our audit procedures were brought to the attention of, and corrected by, management. Refer to Appendix A for list of audit adjustments recorded by management.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, concerning a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, which could be significant to The College Savings Foundation's financial statements or the auditor's report. No such disagreements arose during the course of the audit.

Representations Requested from Management

We have requested certain written representations from management, which are included in the attached letter dated May 7, 2014. Refer to Appendix B for a copy of management representation letter.

Management's Consultations with Other Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters. Management informed us that, and to our knowledge, there were no consultations with other accountants regarding auditing and accounting matters.

Other Significant Matters, Findings or Issues

In the normal course of our professional association with The College Savings Foundation, we generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, operating conditions affecting the entity, and operating plans and strategies that may affect the risks of material misstatement. None of the matters discussed resulted in a condition to our retention as The College Savings Foundation's auditors.

Existence of a Material Misstatement that Affects the Financial Statements of a Prior Period

We have identified existence of material misstatements that affect the prior period financial statements on which no audit had been performed. We restated the unrestricted net assets, prepaid expenses, accounts payable and accrued expenses as of January 1, 2013 to account for these misstatements. Refer to Note 7 to the audited financial statements for details of the above mentioned material misstatements.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Executive Committee, Board of Directors, and management of The College Savings Foundation and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Affluent Financial Services LLC
1 Research Court, Suite 450
Rockville, MD 20850
(Attn: Ajit S. Chawla)

We are providing this letter in connection with your audit of the statement of financial position of The College Savings Foundation ("CSF" or "Company") as of December 31, 2013, and the related statement of activities and cash flows for the year then ended for the purpose of expressing an opinion on whether the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position, changes in net assets and cash flows of the Company in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We confirm that we are responsible for the fair presentation in the financial statements of the financial position, changes in net assets and cash flows in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We are also responsible for adopting sound accounting policies, establishing and maintaining internal control and preventing and detecting fraud.

Certain representations in this letter are described as being limited to matters that are material. Items are considered material, regardless of size, if they involve an omission or misstatement of accounting information that, in the light of surrounding circumstances, makes it probable that the judgment of a reasonable person relying on the information would be changed or influenced by the omission or misstatement.

We confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, as of May 7, 2014, the following representations made to you during your audit:

1. The financial statements referred to above are fairly presented in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and include all assets and liabilities under the Company's control.

4. The Company has no plans or intentions that may materially affect the carrying value or classifications of assets, liabilities, or net assets.

8. There are no estimates that may be subject to a material change in the near term that have not been properly disclosed in the financial statements. We understand the near term means the period within one year of the date of the financial statements. In addition, we have no knowledge of concentrations existing at the date of the financial statements that make the Company vulnerable to the risk of a near term severe impact that have not been properly disclosed in the financial statements.
